Assessment Analysis

In general, if both the Executive Committee and MCO gave a similar score to a given element, and the score is at least 3.0 or better, then we will go into the coming year feeling that we are on track with respect to that element. If the scores given by each group vary from one another by three-tenths of a point or more, regardless of which score is high and which low and regardless of whether the scores are 3.0 or not, that element will receive extra attention during the coming year.
