Edit history Fall 2006.

1. I added a .999 (i.e., dot999) to the end of every call number sequence that did not end in 0000 (zero).

2. I eliminated the left-hand column of every LC category; these are line/row numbers that are supplied by the III system, and will change every time the number of rows changes. The two exceptions are the first and last LC line/row numbers, which I've left as a point of reference for the editing process. I left the Dewey line/row numbers at the beginning of the table intact for now, but eventually all line/row numbers need to be redone as a point of reference for the data insertion process in III.

3. I inserted new rows and fabricated LC call number sequences for every gap in the LC numbering sequence contained in the table above. These lines are easily identified by the phrase Not Assigned in the right-hand ("Description") column.
